Don Davie is a business and regulatory attorney whose practice focuses on Public Utility, Healthcare, and Business and Corporate Law.

Mr. Davie represents clients in regulatory matters before state and federal agencies and assists and advises both healthcare and corporate clients on regulatory compliance issues and general business transactions. He is licensed in both Texas and New Mexico.

As a Healthcare attorney, Mr. Davie represents physicians, physician assistants, nurse practitioners, and medical provider groups in business, contractual and regulatory concerns. He advises and counsels clients on difficult business decisions and strategies, including business combination transactions, operation and employment matters, and general contractual matters.

As a Public Utility attorney, Mr. Davie represents clients in contested rate-making proceedings, advocating for just and reasonable electric and gas rates. He has experience in contested rate proceedings, tariff and contract negotiations, and energy transition transactions.

With respect to business and corporate law, Mr. Davie advises clients as to business structures and transactions, including mergers and acquisitions, corporate governance, and general contractual matters.

Mr. Davie grew up in El Paso and enjoys spending time with his growing family playing tennis, golfing, and hiking in the southwest desert.
